THEORETICAL

AND

BOOK-KEEPING,

FOR USE IN

BUSINESS COLLEGES,

AND IN

COMMON SCHOOLS, HIGH SCHOOLS AND ACADEMIES,

AND FOR

SELF-INSTRUCTION.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 182, By WILLIAMS & ROGERS, In the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D.C.

PREFACE.

WE do not claim that we have enunciated any new principles in the course of study in the science and practice of book-keeping contained in this work. We do elaim, however, that we have arranged those already established in such a manner, and accompanied that arrangement with such clear and complete explanations, as will insure the pupil a knowledge of the subject, practically independent of the instructor.

While we have studiously avoided unnecessary theorizing, we have endeavored to give a competent reason for every step to be taken, believing that the pupil, if he have the ability to master the subject under any circumstances, will be able to secure, from the reasons and illustrations given, a thorough knowledge of the science of accounts.

We desire that the student's mind shall be constantly directed to the matter in hand—that of learning practical book-keeping—and not become contused by abstruse theories that can be of no possible use to him in pursuing the course of study, nor of the least value to him in after life.

The claim of this work to superiority over all other publications of its character is based, particularly, upon the manner in which the transactions selected as a basis of the student's work have been graded, the fullness of explanation of every step to be taken, the placing of such explanations in immediate proximity to the transactions, the system of references to the illustrations adopted, the encouragement to progress in penmanship afforded by the engraved pages, the ability of the pupil to rely upon himself, and the material lessening of the labor of the teacher.

DOUBLE ENTRY BOOK-KEEPING.

- ¹ Book-keeping is a record of business transactions. ² The object of such record is to enable the proprietor to determine, at any time, the true condition of the business.
- ³ There are two methods of book-keeping in general use, ⁴ termed Single Entry and Double Entry. The following explanations refer to the Double Entry method.
 - ⁵ The principal books used are the Day Book, Journal and Ledger.
- ⁶ The Day Book, or Blotter as it is sometimes called, contains a statement of the business transactions in detail. ⁷ The record should be made as soon as the transaction takes place, ⁸ to guard against errors which might be occasioned by delay in making the entry.
- ⁹ The Journal contains the Debits and Credits, taken from the Day Book, and arranged in a form convenient for transferring to the Ledger. ¹⁰ Deciding upon and arranging the debits and credits in the Journal is called Journalizing. ¹¹ In every journal entry the debits and credits must be equal. ¹² The Day Book and Journal may be combined, ¹³ by writing the particulars regarding the transactions in the Journal, in connection with the journal entry.
- ¹⁴ The Ledger contains the final results, ¹⁵ which are exhibited by collecting all debits and credits having the same name under one heading. ¹⁶ Such a collection of debits and credits is called an Account. ¹⁷ An account has two sides, ¹⁸ the left side being called the Debit and ¹⁹ the right side the Credit. ²⁰ Transferring the debits and credits from the Journal to the Ledger is called Posting.
 - ²¹ The terms Debit or Debtor, and Credit or Creditor, may be abbreviated: as, Dr. and Cr.

Other books, as the Cash Book, Bill Book, Order Book, Invoice Book, Sales Book, etc., will be explained hereafter.

²² In Double Entry book-keeping there are three kinds of accounts aside from an account with the Proprietor: accounts with Persons, accounts with Property, and accounts representing Allowances made by us, or to us, for Interest, Discount, Exchange, Premium, Storage, Commission, Expenses, etc., by which we sustain Losses or realize Gains.

NOTE.—While it will be necessary, in due time, for the Student to become thoroughly familiar with the principles involved in the rules given on the following pages, he can do so much more easily and quickly, and with a better understanding of their application, if he learn them as he has occasion to apply them, than he can by committing them to memory in advance.

The Student, therefore, after reading carefully the following rules, examples and explanations, may proceed with the work upon his books, as instructed in the foot notes from page to page. Each step is so carefully explained, and the references so fully given, that he should have little difficulty in performing the work correctly and understandingly.

The debits and credits in any business transaction may be determined by the following

GENERAL RULES FOR JOURNALIZING.

25 Persons are Debited.

*When they get into our debt, and ^b When we get out of their debt.

²⁵ Property is Debited,

Under an appropriate title, as Mdse., Real Estate, Cash, etc., when it comes into our possession.

²⁷ Allowances are Debited.

Under appropriate titles, as Interest, Exchange, Commission, etc., when made by us.

> 24 Persons are Credited.

"When we get into their debt, and ^b When they get out of our debt.

Under its appropriate title, when it goes out of our possession.

²⁸ ALLOWANCES ARE CREDITED,

Under their appropriate titles, when made to us.

The hree kinds of accounts mentioned above are divided into  two general classes, one class showing Gains and Losses, and the other Resources and Liabilities.

30 Losses. ·

An account exhibits a Loss, if the thing it represents has cost us more than it has produced.

32 RESOURCES.

An account exhibits a Resource, if it represents property on hand, or a debt owing to us.

31 GAINS.

An account exhibits a Gain, if the thing it represents has produced us more than it has cost.

33 LIABILITIES.

An account exhibits a Liability, if it represents a debt owing by us.

³⁴ The excess in an account showing either a Resource or a Loss will be on the debit side, and ³⁵ the excess in an account showing either a Liability or a Gain will be on the credit side.

SPECIAL RULES FOR JOURNALIZING.

The following additional rules, definitions and explanations are given to supplement and emphasize the foregoing general rules, as a further aid to the student in the work of journalizing.

THE PROPRIETOR.
Dr. C

⁵⁶ The Proprietor is debited for his liabilities assumed by the business, for all amounts drawn by him from the business for his private use, and for his net loss.

³⁷ The Proprietor is credited for the amount of his investment on commencing business, for all subsequent investments, and for his net gain.

*The title "Stock" is sometimes used in place of the proprietor's name. The explanation for a co-partnership will be given hereafter.

CASH.
Dr. Cr.

³⁹ Cash is debited when it is received.

⁴⁰ Cash is credited when it is paid out.

⁴¹ Under the title "Cash" we include Currency, Bank Checks, Postal Orders, Sight Drafts, and usually all kinds of paper payable on demand. ⁴² The Dr. side of cash account will always be greater, when there is any difference, ⁴⁵ because we cannot pay out more than we have received, "and the difference will show the cash on hand, ⁴⁵ which difference is a Resource. ⁴⁶ When all the cash has been paid out, the account will balance.

MERCHANDISE

Dr. Cr.

47 Mdsc. is debited for its cost, when bought.

48 Mdsc. is credited for its proceeds, when sold.

difference will show the gain or loss, providing the goods have all been sold. ⁵² If there is an Inventory (goods unsold), its value must first be added to the proceeds from sales, and the difference will then show the gain or loss. ⁵³ The above rule and explanations will also apply to other property, as Real Estate (houses and lands), Bank Stock, Railroad Stock, etc., excepting that an account should be opened with each, under its appropriate title.

EXPENSE.

Dr. Cr.

⁵⁴ Expense is debited with any outlay for carrying on the business.

55 Expense is credited when anything of value is disposed of, which was previously debited to Expense.

⁵⁶ Under the title "Expense" we generally include such items as Rent, Salaries, Office Books, Office Furniture, Fuel, Light, etc. ⁵⁷ If, as in the case of Mdse., it is desired to show results in detail, separate accounts may be opened with "Rent," "Salaries," "Office Furniture." etc., instead of including all these items under the general heading "Expense." ⁵⁸ Expense account usually shows a loss.

BILLS RECEIVABLE.

Dr. Cr.

⁵⁹ Bills Receivable is debited for the written promises to pay, of other parties, when received.

⁶⁰ Bills Receivable is credited for the written promises to pay, of other parties, when paid or otherwise disposed of.

⁶¹ Under the title "Bills Receivable" we include, generally. Notes and Time Drafts. ⁶² The Dr. side of the account will always be larger, when there is any difference, ⁶³ because we cannot dispose of a greater amount than we have received. ⁶⁴ The difference in the account will show the Bills Receivable on hand, ⁶⁵ which difference is a Resource. ⁶⁶ The account will balance when the Bills Receivable have all been disposed of, because such bills are always debited and credited at their face value.

BILLS PAYABLE.

Or. Ci

⁶⁷ Bills Payable is debited for our written promises to pay, when redeemed (that is paid).

⁶⁸ Bill ises to pay

68 Bills Payable is credited for our written promises to pay, when issued (that is given).

⁶⁹ Under the title "Bills Payable" we include, generally, Notes and Accepted Time Drafts. ⁵⁰ The Cr. side of the account will always be larger, when there is any difference, ⁷¹ because we cannot redeem a greater amount than we have issued. ⁷² The difference in the account will show the Bills Payable outstanding, ⁷⁵ which difference is a Liability. ⁷⁴ The account will balance when all the Bills Payable have been redeemed, because such bills are always debited and credited at their face value.

INTEREST AND DISCOUNT.

Or. Cr

⁷⁶ Interest and Discount are debited when allowed to others.

One of the standard debited when allowed to us.

- ⁷⁷ Interest is the compensation allowed for the use of money.
- ⁷⁸ Discount is the allowance made for the payment of a debt before it is due.
- ⁷⁹ When the Dr. side of Interest and Discount account is the greater, the difference shows a loss; when the Cr. side is greater, the difference shows a gain. ⁸⁰ The above rule will apply also to such accounts as Exchange, Premium, Collection, Storage, Commission, etc.

Additional rules and explanations will be given when required, in connection with the work to be performed.

EXAMPLES IN JOURNALIZING.

Note.—The following twenty-nine Examples, representing a series of business transactions, are designed to illustrate the application of the principles embodied in the foregoing General and Special Rules, and to serve as references to aid the student in the work of journalizing. These examples are not to be written up by the student, but should be carefully studied as follows: He should first read the Day Book Record for the transaction, then observe how it is Journalized, and also study the explanations which follow, consulting the rules to which references are made. After reading all of the examples, the student may commence the work upon his books, as instructed in note on page 12.

Note to Student.—Having carefully read the preceding pages, you may now begin the work upon your books. First copy into your Day Book the business transactions for January, as given on the following pages. As you are supposed to be the proprietor of the business, you will write your name in the blank lines in the first two transactions on the next page.

In copying you may omit from your Day Book the figures in the column at the left of the transactions, as they are simply reference figures, to assist in journalizing. The explanations for their use will be given hereafter. You should make your pages as nearly as possible like the following, in substance, penmanship and arrangement. Read foot notes carefully, as all are important to an understanding of the work. Always write your own name in place of the word Student, or wherever a blank line is used to indicate it.

DIRECTIONS FOR JOURNALIZING.

Having completed the work of copying the foregoing transactions into your Day Book, you may now journalize them. As explained in 9 and 10, on page 5, journalizing is deciding upon the proper debits and credits of the business transactions recorded in the Day Book, and arranging them in the Journal in a form convenient for transferring (posting) to the Ledger. In journalizing, therefore, you will need your Day Book and Journal before you.

The Examples commencing on page 8 are designed to assist you in the work of journalizing. To illustrate: Read the first transaction in your Day Book; then turn to page 8 and compare it with the Day Book Record of Example No. 1. As you will see, they read substantially alike, and precisely the same principles are involved in each. If, therefore, Example No. 1 be journalized Cash, Dr.

To J. T. Smith. Cr.

5000 (see journal entry for Example No. 1, page 8), it follows that the

To J. T. Smith, Cr. 5000 (see journal entry for Example No. 1, page 8), it folds first transaction in your Day Book should be journalized Cash, Dr 4000

To Student, Cr. 4000

Turn to your Journal, therefore, and make the journal entry as shown in the engraved form below. You will observe that the debits are entered on the left side and the credits on the right side of the dividing line. The abbreviations Dr. and Cr. are omitted from the Journal. The sign "To" indicates that the item before which it is placed is a credit. After you have made the entry in your Journal, turn at once to your $Day\ Book$, and, in the column at the left, check the transaction thus $\sqrt{\ }$, to prevent omissions.

Next proceed to journalize the second transaction in your Day Book. By reference to page 13 of the text book, you will see that the small reference figures at the left of this transaction indicate that you are to consult Example No. 2, on page 8, for assistance in making the journal entry. Again, the reference figures for transaction of January 2, page 13, refer you to Example No. 3, page 8; for transaction of January 4, to Example No. 5, and so on.

By referring in this manner to an example containing the same conditions as the transaction you are journalizing, you can readily determine the proper debits and credits for all of the transactions in January. In consulting these examples for assistance in making the journal entries, you should at the same time study the rules and explanations given under them, that you may, as soon as possible, become familiar with the principles of debit and credit.

After journalizing all of the transactions for January, present your Journal to the teacher for approval.

DIRECTIONS FOR POSTING.

After you have journalized all of the transactions for January, and your Journal has been approved by the teacher, your next work will be to post. Posting, as explained in 14 to 20, on page 5, is transferring the debits and credits from the Journal to the Ledger, placing those of the same name under one heading, for the purpose of exhibiting the final results of the business. The simple process of posting is not difficult; it is purely mechanical, but it requires constant watchfulness and care to perform the work without making errors.

A few Ledger accounts are shown on page 19, to give you an idea of the form for opening accounts in your Ledger; and you will find explicit instructions for posting given below, under "Guide for posting the Journal entries for January."

You are to follow those instructions to the very letter, performing the work step by step as directed. To illustrate: In the instructions for posting the first journal entry (Jan. 1), you are told to "write your own name at the top of page I in your Ledger." Before reading the instructions further, you should turn to your Ledger and perform the work exactly as directed; then turn again to the instructions and see what the next step is, and take that, and so on until you have posted the entire entry.

Then take the instructions for the second entry in your Journal, and proceed in the same manner as with the first entry, performing the work precisely as indicated.

After you have posted a few of the journal entries by the aid of the instructions, lay aside your text book and proceed without it if possible.

You may now place your Journal and Ledger before you, and commence posting in accordance with the following

GUIDE FOR POSTING THE JOURNAL ENTRIES FOR JANUARY.

JANUARY 1. (See this Entry in your Journal.)

First, write your name at the top of page 1 in your Ledger, on the upper line, in a bold, plain hand. (See form of Ledger on page 19.) Next, on the right hand side of the heavy line in the center—Cr. side—enter, in the date column, the date, "Jan. 1." (The explanation column will be left blank for the present.) Next, in the journal page column, enter the page of your Journal, "1." Next, in the amount column, enter the amount, "4000." Next turn to your Journal, and place a check mark, thus " $\sqrt{}$," opposite the student's name, to indicate that the item has been posted. (See Journal form on page 16.) Before reading any further, perform the above work precisely as instructed. Next write "Cash," in a bold, plain hand, at the top of page 2 in your Ledger. Next, on the left hand side of the heavy line in the center—that is, on the Dr. side—enter in the date column, the date, "Jan. 1." Next, in the Journal page column, enter the page of your Journal, "1." Next, in the amount column, enter the amount, "4000." Next turn to your Journal, "1." JANUARY 11.

Post on the Dr. side of Stevens account, and on the Cr. side of Cash account, remembering to check in the Journal after each posting.

JANUARY 12.

Post on Dr. side of Mdse. account. Next open an account with James T. Hoag, at the top of page 7, and credit him.

Note.—You will observe that, in every journal entry, an equal amount is posted to both sides of the Ledger, thus keeping it constantly in balance. This is the principle upon which Double Entry book-keeping is based and from which it takes its name.

You should now be able to proceed with the posting without further assistance. In case you should be unable to do so, however, for additional practice apply to the teacher for a separate sheet of ledger paper, and post the same entries again.

In opening new accounts in your Ledger hereafter, leave one-half of a page space for each, until otherwise instructed.

TRIAL BALANCE.

⁸¹ A Trial Balance is a test to ascertain whether the debit and credit sides of the Ledger are equal. ⁸² The Trial Balance does not prove the work absolutely correct, ⁸³ as errors may be made which will not affect the equality of the Ledger, ⁸⁴ such as posting to the wrong account, errors in journalizing, erroneous computations, etc.

⁵⁵ If the footings of the Trial Balance are equal, however, it is generally regarded as evidence that the work upon the Ledger is correct, ⁵⁶ although the careful book-keeper, in addition to such proof, will usually go over his computations and posting the second time.

You may now proceed to take a Trial Balance for January.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TAKING JANUARY TRIAL BALANCE.

Commence with the first account in your Ledger, which is Student's, and foot the Dr. side of the account, ⁸⁷ placing the footing in small lead-pencil figures, ⁸⁸ close up to the line on which the last item is posted, as illustrated below.

		oru.	DENT.
188 Jan. 1 18	1 2	300 - 75 375	188 Jan. 1	1	4000

The above illustration shows how the Dr. side of Student's account will appear in the Ledger after it has been footed for the trial balance. ⁸⁹ Do not draw lines under the columns to be added, as the peculiar position of the footing serves to distinguish it from the other items in the account. ⁸⁰ Make your pencil footings plain and distinct, but as small as possible. When there is but one item on either side of an account, no pencil figures are necessary; for example, see credit side of Student's account above. Next write your name on the first line in the trial balance sheet, ⁹¹ placing the Dr. footing of your account in the left hand column and the Cr. footing in the right hand column, as illustrated in the trial balance given below.

You will then turn to the next account in your Ledger—Cash. Add both sides of the account, as before instructed, placing the footings in pencil in the position described above, and then transfer them, with the title of the account—Cash—to the next line in the trial balance sheet. Continue in this manner, footing and carrying results to the trial balance, until the footings of all of the accounts in the Ledger have been transferred. ⁹² When the footings of both sides of an account are equal they should be omitted from the trial balance, as in the case of the account with James T. Hoag. You may rule up lloag's account in your Ledger at once. (See first ruling of his account, page 39.) ⁹³ If your trial balance is correct, the footings of the sides will be equal, and will correspond in all particulars with the one given below. Always use real ink in ruling. Write your own name in place of "Student."

ERRORS IN TRIAL BALANCES.

No rule or set of rules can be given for the certain detection of errors in trial balances, save, perhaps, a careful review of the entire work. If only one error has been made, however, the following short tests will frequently disclose it, and they should be first applied, as involving much less labor than going over the entire work.

First.—95 If the error be exactly $1, $10, $100, $1000, etc., it is very likely in the additions, either of the Ledger accounts or the columns of the trial balance.

Second.—⁹⁶ An error may have been made in carrying the footings of the accounts from the Ledger to the trial balance, or ⁹⁷ an account may have been omitted entirely from the trial balance.

Third.—98 If an amount has been omitted in posting, the trial balance will be exactly that amount out of balance. 99 Look through the Journal or other books from which you have posted, and see if you can find an item of the same amount as the error, which has been omitted in posting.

Fourth.—¹⁰⁰ If an amount has been posted to the wrong side of the Ledger, the trial balance will be just twice that amount out of balance; ¹⁰¹ therefore look through the Journal for an item of one-half the amount of the error.

Fifth.—¹⁰² If the error be divisible by 9, it is quite likely to have been caused by a transposition of figures; as, $42 posted $24 would make an error of $18, which is divisible by 9; again, $345 posted $453 would make an error of $108, which is divisible by 9, etc.

Sixth.—¹⁰³ Should all of the foregoing tests fail to disclose the error, it will be necessary to review the work, ¹⁰⁴ from the date of the last trial balance, in the following manner: ¹⁰⁵ Examine carefully each journal entry, to be certain that the debits and credits are equal, and ¹⁰⁶ then see that these debits and credits have been transferred correctly to the Ledger, ¹⁰⁷ placing a check mark in pencil, thus $\sqrt{\ }$, in the Ledger against each item examined and found to be correctly posted. ¹⁰⁸ If, after thus checking the work, you find an amount not checked, you may conclude that the item has been posted twice. ¹⁰⁹ Merely examining the posting without checking will not answer the purpose; every item must be checked to locate the error.

Note.—Questions upon a few of the leading principles involved in the work of the foregoing set are given below, and you should be prepared to answer them satisfactorily if called upon by the teacher at any time to do so. Before proceeding further, therefore, study carefully the answers to the following

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Note.—After you have become familiar with the principles covered by the above questions, proceed to copy into your Day Book the transactions for February, as given on the following pages. In all computations, if the fraction is five mills or over, add another cent; if less than five mills, drop the fraction. Strive to make the work upon your books show constant progress in penmanship, by imitating as nearly as possible the forms given you to copy.

Note.—After you have completed copying the foregoing transactions into your Day Book, before proceeding to journalize, draw up on foolscap paper all of the notes mentioned in the transactions for the month. (See form of note on page 21.)

Interest and Discount are computed in this work at 6 per cent., on a basis of 365 days, unless otherwise specified When a note is given in months, the interest or discount is reckoned in months and days; if given in days, the actual number of days are taken.

After writing the notes called for above, proceed to journalize the transactions for February as you did those of January, referring when necessary to the principles and examples indicated by the figures at the left of the transactions to assist you in the work. As before stated, you should, when referring to the rules and explanations, study them carefully, that you may, as soon as possible, journalize independently, by becoming familiar with the principles of debit and credit. No reference figures are given for a few of the simpler transactions in February, it being presumed that you are sufficiently acquainted with the principles to enable you to journalize them without such assistance.

When you have completed the journalizing for February, present your journal, together with the forms of noter called for above, to the teacher for approval. You will then be prepared to begin

POSTING FEBRUARY.

As the business for February is a continuation of that of January, it will be posted under the same ledger headings, new accounts being opened, of course, as they may be required. Since full instructions for posting were given in January, you will probably not require any further assistance, as the work of posting is always substantially the same.

Should you need further aid, however, in the work, instructions for posting a few of the first journal entries in February are given below.

GUIDE FOR POSTING FEBRUARY.

FEBRUARY 1 (See this Entry in your Journal.)

Turn to Wells, Johnson & Co.'s account, on page 8 in your Ledger, and enter, on the Dr. side of their account, the date, "Feb. 1"; the page of your Journal, "3"; the amount, "200"; then turn to your Journal and check this item.

Next turn to Cash account, on page 2, and enter, on the Cr. side, the date, "Feb. 1"; the journal page, "3"; the amount, "200"; then turn to your Journal and check.

FEBRUARY 1. (Second Entry.)

Turn to Expense account, on page 6, and enter, on the Dr. side, the date, journal page and amount; then check in the Journal. Next turn to Cash account, on page 2, and enter, on the Cr. side, the date, journal page and amount; then check in the Journal.

FEBRUARY 2.

Turn to Mdse. account, on page 4, and post on the Dr. side. Next open an account with Bills Payable at the top of page 9 in your Ledger. (Bills Payable will require one page space.) Post, on the Cr. side, the date, journal page and amount. Remember to check every item in the Journal as soon as posted.

FEBRUARY 3.

Post on the Dr. side of Cash account, and on the Cr. side of Mdse. account.

FEBRUARY 5.

Open an account with Bills Receivable at the top of page 10 in your Ledger. (Bills Receivable will require one page space.) Post, on the Dr. side, the date, journal page and amount. Turn to Moore & Collins' account, and credit them with same amount.

FEBRUARY 6.

Post on Dr. side of Mdse. account. Next open an account with David Bailey at the top of page 11, and credit him with same amount.

FEBRUARY 7.

Post, on the Dr. side of Cash account, "100"; on the Dr. side of Jas. T. Hoag's account, "56.25"; on the Cr. side of Mdse. account, "156.25."

Note.—Continue in this manner until you have posted the entire month of February. In opening new accounts hereafter in this month, give each account one half a page space, excepting Interest and Discount, which will require one page each.

After you have completed the posting for the entire month, your next work will be the

TRIAL BALANCE FOR FEBRUARY.

Proceed to take a Trial Balance for February, in accordance with the instructions for the January Trial Balance, given on page 20. In footing the accounts for February, add in the January footing also.

Remember that the footings are to be in pencil. Make small, plain figures, and place them close up to the line on which the last item in the account is posted, as instructed in 88, page 20.

Ford & Co.'s account balances; it is therefore to be ruled up (see form of ruling on pages 38 and 39), and omitted from your Trial Balance.

When all the accounts in your Ledger have been footed and transferred to the Trial Balance, it should agree in all respects with the Trial Balance given below.

Note No. 2.—If your trial balance does not prove, turn to page 21, and apply the tests for finding errors in the exact order given. If, after checking over the entire posting precisely as instructed in Rule 6, you do not find the error, hand your trial balance and books to the teacher, who will suggest further steps to be taken.

Note.—Questions upon some of the principles involved in the preceding set are given below, and you should be prepared to answer them if called upon to do so. Before proceeding further, therefore, study carefully the answers to the following.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Note.—Before proceeding with the month of March, study the following rule and explanations for the Bank account, and also the examples given below illustrating the rule.

Dr. BANK.

110 Bank is debited when a deposit is made in the bank.

In Bank is credited when a check is drawn upon the bank.

¹¹² The checks drawn by other persons, which come into your possession, should be journalized as Cash. Debit Cash when you receive such checks, and credit Cash when you dispose of them. (See form of check on page 28.)

Note. - The following examples will illustrate the rule given above for journalizing the Bank account.

Note.—The Bank account is sometimes kept in the Check Book instead of in the Ledger, the balance in bank being considered as cash on hand. When this method is adopted, no entry is made in the Cash account at the time of depositing, Cash account being credited when a check is drawn upon the bank. This method of keeping the Bank account will be illustrated in a more advanced part of the work.

You may now proceed to copy the transactions for the month of March into your Day Book. One page only is written up, the remaining transactions being simply in the form of a connected statement or history, from which you are to copy, arranging the work as heretofore. In a few cases references are made to similar transactions, to assist you in the proper arrangement of the work in your Day Book.

¹¹³ An Inventory represents, generally, property on hand, as in the case above. ¹¹⁴ It may, however, represent a debt owing to us or owing by us, such as interest accrued on notes, unpaid rent, etc. ¹¹⁵ An Inventory may, therefore, show either a resource or a liability.

¹¹⁶ In business, the inventory of goods on hand is usually found by going through the store, weighing, measuring or counting the articles, ¹¹⁷ their value being estimated usually at the price at which they could then be purchased. ¹¹⁸ In some kinds of wholesale business it is advantageous to keep what is called a "Stock Book," from which the quantity of goods on hand can be determined at any time, and with much less labor than by the method described above.

Note.—Having completed copying the Day Book for March, journalize the transactions, consulting the examples and rules to which references are made, as you may find it necessary. After you have journalized the entire month, before commencing to post, write up, on foolscap paper, the checks mentioned in the transactions of March 13 and 26 (see form of check on page 28), and present them, with your Journal, to the teacher for approval.

POSTING MARCH.

The business of March being a continuation of that of January and February, it will be posted under the same ledger headings, opening such new accounts as may be required.

Give all new accounts in this month one-half of a page space, excepting College Bank, which will require one page.

BALANCE SHEET.

After you have completed the posting for March, you may next "make out a "Balance Sheet," for the purpose of ascertaining the exact condition of the business at the present time.

¹²⁰ The Balance Sheet as illustrated on page 34 combines with the Trial Balance a statement, exhibiting in a condensed and convenient form for reference, the Resources, Liabilities, Losses and Gains of the business. In performing this work, it is of the utmost importance to you that you do not merely copy the form of Balance Sheet. To do the work understandingly, securing a knowledge of the relations of the various accounts to the business, it is absolutely essential that you take each step in the order indicated, and perform the work precisely as directed in the instructions which follow.

GUIDE FOR MAKING BALANCE SHEET FOR MARCH.

If you have not in your Trial Balance book a form ruled to correspond with the one shown on page 34, you will rule a sheet. First take a trial balance of your Ledger, precisely as instructed for January and February; that is, foot the accounts in pencil, and carry the footings to the first two columns of your Balance Sheet. Do not extend any amounts to the other columns until you have thus drawn off into your Balance Sheet all of the ledger accounts and footed the columns, to ascertain whether your Ledger is in balance. If your trial balance proves—that is, if the first two columns foot equally—your next step will be to extend the Resources, Liabilities, Losses and Gains, as shown by the various accounts as follows:

CASH.

Commence with Cash, it being the first account in your Balance Sheet, following the Proprietor's (Student's) account. ¹²¹ The difference between the Dr. footing, 15871.91—the eash received—and the Cr. footing, 15530.49—the eash paid out—is 341.42, which you are to extend to the Resource column in your Balance Sheet, because it is the eash on hand. (See 32, page 6.)

MERCHANDISE.

¹²⁷ First enter, in the Resource column, the Mdse. on hand—that is the Inventory as shown on page 31—1420.50. (See 32, page 6.) Make the entry in red ink, to distinguish it from the resources shown by the ledger accounts. Next find the gain on Mdse. account by either of the following methods, and extend into the Gain column of your Balance Sheet 803.62. (See 31, page 6.)

123 First Method.	124 $	124 SECOND METHOD.

H. W. STEVENS.

¹²⁵ The Cr. footing of his account is 1210, and the debit footing 775. You are to extend to the Liability column the difference, 435, because it is the balance you owe him. (See 33, page 6.)

FORD & CO.

136 The debit footing of their account is 200, and, there being no credit, extend the 200 to the Resource column, it being the amount they owe you. (See 32, page 6.)

EXPENSE.

Page 6.) Enter the item in red ink, as explained for Mdsc. Inventory, 300, given on page 31. (See 32, page 6.) Enter the item in red ink, as explained for Mdsc. Inventory. Next enter, in the Loss column, 320.05, the loss on Expense account (see 30, page 6). ¹⁸⁸ This you will find by deducting the Expense Inventory, 300, from the Dr. footing of Expense account, 620.05, because the Safe and Books, when bought, were charged to Expense account, and are therefore included in the Dr. footing, 620.05.

JAS. T. HOAG.

The Dr. footing of his account is 123.75, and the Cr. footing 25. You are to extend to the Resource column the difference, 98.75, because it is the balance he owes you (32, page 6).

WELLS, JOHNSON & CO.

The Cr. footing of their account is 968.75, and the Dr. footing 200. You are to extend to the Liability column the difference, 768.75, it being the balance you owe them (33, page 6).

BILLS PAYABLE.

129 The difference between the Cr. footing, 2383.75 (the notes issued), and the Dr. footing, 2083.75 (notes redeemed), is 300, which you are to extend to the Liability column, it being the Bills Payable outstanding (33, page 6).

BILLS RECEIVABLE.

¹³⁰ The difference between the Dr. footing, 2854.80 (the notes received), and the Cr. footing, 2724.50 (notes disposed of), is 130.30, which you are to extend to the Resource column, it being the Bills Receivable on hand (32, page 6).

DAVID BAILEY and W. A. BANCROFT.

Same instructions and explanations for these accounts as given above for H. W. Stevens' account.

INTEREST.

¹³¹ The difference between the Cr. footing, 2.17 (the interest allowed to us), and the Dr. footing, 1.92 (the interest allowed by us), is 25c, which you are to extend to the Gain column (31, page 6).

DISCOUNT.

¹³² The difference between the Dr. footing, 16.64 (the discount allowed by us), and the Cr. footing, 3.16 (the discount allowed to us), is 13.48, which you are to extend to the Loss column (30, page 6).

SICKLES, STOVER & JACKSON.

Same instructions and explanations as given above for Jas. T. Hoag's account.

REAL ESTATE.

¹⁸³ The difference between the Cr. footing, 2300 (the returns from sales), and the Dr. footing, 2000 (the cost), is 300, which you are to extend to the Gain column (31, page 6).

CLARK, SONS & BRADLEY.

Same instructions and explanations as given above for Jas. T. Hoag's account.

COLLEGE BANK.

¹³⁴ The difference between the Dr. footing, 5200 (the amount deposited), and the Cr. footing, 1241.07 (the amount withdrawn), is 3958.93, which you are to extend to the Resource column, it being the balance on deposit in the bank (32, page 6).

You may now foot the remaining columns of your Balance Sheet, viz: the Resource, Liability, Loss and Gain columns, after which make a summary of the results, as shown in the form of Balance Sheet on page 34.

¹³⁵ When the losses exceed the gains, the difference is called the "Net Loss." ¹³⁶ In such case the Net Loss is to be deducted from the Net Investment, to find the Present Worth.

¹³⁷ When the Liabilities exceed the Resources, the Proprietor is said to be "Insolvent."

Note.—On April 1 you are to admit D. W. Leonard as a partner in your business. You may therefore close your Ledger, with that object in view, as explained below.

First read carefully the following "General Rules for Closing the Ledger," and then proceed with the work as instructed under "Guide for Closing the Ledger for March," on page 36.

CLOSING THE LEDGER.

¹³⁸ It is customary in business, once a year at least, to take an inventory of goods on hand, ¹³⁹ and close those accounts in the Ledger which show losses and gains, ¹⁴⁰ for the purpose of carrying the Net Gain or Net Loss to the Proprietor's account, thereby causing it to show his present worth.

¹⁴¹ The remaining accounts at such time, that is, those showing resources and liabilities, are not usually closed. ¹⁴² All of the accounts, however, may be and sometimes are closed, the object being to mark a period, or new starting point in the business, as the beginning of a new business year, the admission of a new partner, or the opening of a new Ledger.

GENERAL RULES FOR CLOSING THE LEDGER.

143 LOSS AND GAIN ACCOUNT OPENED.

Open an account with "Loss and Gain," at the top of the first blank page following the last account in your Ledger, if you have not already opened such an account.

144 ACCOUNTS CLOSED IN THE ORDER IN WHICH THEY APPEAR IN THE LEDGER.

To economize time, and to avoid omissions, close the accounts in the order in which they stand in the Ledger, omitting the Proprietor's account until all the other accounts in the Ledger have been closed.

145 ACCOUNTS HAVING RESOURCE INVENTORIES CLOSED.

If an account has a Resource Inventory, enter the amount of it on the credit side of the account, in red ink, using for explanation "Inventory." Next enter, on the smaller side of the account, in red ink, the difference between the sides, using for explanation "Loss and Gain." Next rule up the account and enter the footings, carrying the Inventory below the rulings, on the debit side of the account, in black ink. Next transfer the loss and gain amount to the opposite side of Loss and Gain account, in black ink, using for explanation the title of the account you are closing, as "Expense" or "Merchandise."

146 ACCOUNTS HAVING LIABILITY INVENTORIES CLOSED.

If an account has a Liability Inventory, enter the amount of it on the debt side of the account, in red ink, using for explanation "Inventory." Next enter, on the smaller side of the account, in red ink, the difference between the sides, using for explanation "Loss and Gain." Next rule up the account and enter the footings, carrying the Inventory below the rulings on the credit side of the account, in black ink. Next transfer the loss and gain amount to the opposite side of Loss and Gain account, in black ink, using for explanation the title of the account you are closing, as "Expense" or "Interest."

147 ACCOUNTS SHOWING GAINS HAVING NO INVENTORIES CLOSED

Enter, on the debit side, in red ink, "Loss and Gain," and the difference between the sides of the account. Rule up the account, enter the footings, and transfer the loss and gain amount to the credit side of Loss and Gain account, in black ink, using for explanation the title of the account you are closing, as "Mdse.," "Real Estate," etc.

148 ACCOUNTS SHOWING LOSSES HAVING NO INVENTORIES CLOSED.

Enter, on the credit side, in red ink, "Loss and Gain," and the difference between the sides of the account. Rule up the account, enter the footings, and transfer the loss and gain amount to the debit side of Loss and Gain account, in black ink, using for explanation the title of the account you are closing, as "Expense," "Interest," etc.

149 ACCOUNTS SHOWING RESOURCES CLOSED.

Enter, on the credit side of the account, in red ink, "Balance" and the difference between the sides. Rule and foot the account, and carry the difference below the rutings, on the debit side, in black ink, using for explanation "Balance."

150 ACCOUNTS SHOWING LIABILITIES CLOSED

Enter, on the debit side of the account, in red ink, "Balance" and the difference between the sides. Rule and foot the account, and carry the difference below the rulings, on the credit side, in black ink, using for explanation "Balance."

151 LOSS AND GAIN ACCOUNT CLOSED.

Enter on the smaller side of Loss and Gain account, in red ink, the proprietor's name and the difference between the sides, which difference will be the Net Gain or Net Loss. Rule and foot the account, and carry the difference to the opposite side of the proprietor's account, in black ink, using "Loss and Gain" for explanation. In case of a partnership, the difference should be divided according to the terms of the partnership contract, and each partner's name and share entered separately in the Loss and Gain account, and afterward transferred to the opposite side of his individual account.

152 THE PROPRIETOR'S ACCOUNT CLOSED.

Enter on the smaller side, "Present Worth" and the difference between the sides, in red ink. Rule and foot the account, and bring the difference below the rulings on the credit side of the account, in black ink, using "Present Worth" for explanation. In ease the debit side of the proprietor's account is greater, the difference will be entered as "Insolvency." In ease of a partnership, each partner's account should be closed as described above. This completes the closing of the Ledger.

Note.—After you have carefully read the "General Rules for Closing the Ledger," given above, you may proceed with the work of closing your Ledger.

To assist you in applying the foregoing rules, a few closed accounts are shown on pages 38 and 39, and explicit directions are given below for every step to be taken, and you should follow these directions very carefully. Take each step in the exact order indicated, and perform the work precisely as directed.

GUIDE FOR CLOSING THE LEDGER, MARCH 31, 188-.

First, at the top of a new page in your Ledger, open an account with Loss and Gain. Simply write the heading. No entry is to be made in the account for the present.

Then turn to the first account in your Ledger following the Proprietor's (Student's) account, which is

CASH.

On the first vacant line on the Cr. side of this account say, in red ink, "Mar. 31, Balance, 341.42." Next rule and foot the account. (See Cash account closed, on page 38.)

183 In ruling an account, draw the red line directly upon the blue line. In the double ruling, draw the lines as close as possible and not have them run together. Rule on the same line on both sides of the account, even if there be a larger number of entries upon one side than upon the other. (See ruling, on page 38.)

154 The space for Cash on page 2 having been filled, open another Cash account at the top of a new page in your Ledger, and transfer the balance, 341.42, forward to the new account, as follows: On the Dr. side of the new Cash account say, in black ink, "Apr. 1, Balance, 341.42."

¹⁵⁵ In the page column of the old Cash account, enter the page of the new account, to show where the balance was transferred to; and in the page column of the new account, enter the page of the old account, to show where the balance was transferred from.

¹⁵⁶ Red ink entries in the Ledger indicate that the amounts so entered are to be transferred to some other place.

MERCHANDISE.

On the Cr. side of this account enter, first, the inventory. Say, in red ink, "Mar. 31, Inventory, 1420,50." Then, on the Dr. side, enter the gain. Say, in red ink, "Mar. 31, Loss and Gain, 803.62," and enter in page column the page of the Loss and Gain account. Next rule and foot the account (see Mdse, account closed, on page 38). Next transfer the gain to the Cr. side of the Loss and Gain account. Say, in black ink, "Mar. 31, Mdse., 803.62." and enter page of Mdse, account. Next transfer the inventory below the ruling or the Mdse, account, on the Dr. side. Say, in black ink, "Apr. 1, Inventory, 1420.50."

H. W. STEVENS.

On Dr. side of this account say, in red ink, "Mar. 31, Balance, 435." Next rule and foot the account. Next transfer the balance below the ruling on the Cr. side. Say, in black ink, "Apr. 1, Balance, 435." (See Stevens' account closed, on page 38.)

158 In closing the accounts, the equilibrium of the Ledger has not been disturbed, ¹⁶⁰ as, in every instance where an amount was entered in an account, either upon the debit or credit side of the Ledger, the same amount was immediately transferred to the opposite side of the Ledger, either in some other account or below the rulings of the same account, thus keeping the Ledger constantly in balance. A trial balance, to prove that your Ledger is now in balance, should be taken, and if correct will correspond with the following:

TRIAL BALANCE OF LEDGER BALANCES, APRIL 1, 188-.

¹⁶¹ RESOURCES (Dr. Balances).		¹⁶² LIABILITIES (Cr. Balances).
Cash, Mdse. Inv. Expense Inv. Bills Receivable, College Bank, Personal Accounts,	$1,420.50 \\ 300.00 \\ 130.30 \\ 3,958.93$	Bills Payable, Personal Accounts, Total Liabilities, Student's Present Worth,	$\frac{1,341.75}{1,641.75}$
Total Resources,	6,812.09		6,812.09

Note.—After you have proved your Ledger to be in balance, as above indicated, you will be ready to proceed with the month of April. Before doing so, however, write out upon foolscap paper answers to the following questions, and present them, with your books, to the teacher for approval.

DRAFTS.

¹⁶³ A Draft is the written order of one party upon a second, requesting the payment of a sum of money to a third. ¹⁶⁴ The party drawing the draft is the "Drawer." ¹⁶⁵ The party upon whom the draft is drawn is the "Drawee." ¹⁶⁶ The party to whom the draft is made payable is the "Payee."

167 The draft is employed, usually, as a medium of exchange between distant places, obviating the expense and risk of sending money.

168 Drafts may be drawn with reference to time in three different ways, viz: 169 At sight. 170 a specified number of days after sight, or 171 a specified number of days after date. 172 Drafts drawn "at sight" are presented to the Drawee for payment. 173 Time drafts are presented for "acceptance."

he agrees to the conditions named in the draft. ¹⁷⁵ This he does by writing across the face of the draft, usually in red ink, to distinguish the acceptance from the other writing, the word Accepted, the date, where payable, and his signature. ¹⁷⁶ It is not necessary to date the acceptance when the draft is drawn a given number of days after date.

In the above draft, the firm of Perry & Jackson is Drawer, J. V. Wentworth is Drawee, and the firm of Willitson, Burgess & Hait, is Payee. The parties sustain the following relations to each other: Perry & Jackson owe Willitson, Burgess and Hait, and Wentworth owes Perry & Jackson. Perry & Jackson, who reside in Baltimore, draw the draft and remit it to Willitson, Burgess & Hait, who reside in Albany. Immediately upon its receipt, they present it to Wentworth, who also resides in Albany, for acceptance. If accepted, Willitson, Burgess & Hait will hold Wentworth's written promise to pay, which, when paid, will cancel the indebtedness of both Perry & Jackson and Wentworth.

The Payee has no legal claim against the Drawee until after the draft has been accepted.

There need necessarily be but two parties to a draft. The Drawer may make the draft payable to himself, in which case he either sends it to the Drawer to be accepted and returned, or, if his (the Drawer's) credit be unquestioned, he may dispose of it before acceptance.

What are termed "Bank Drafts" constitute a large proportion of the business transacted through this medium of exchange. ¹⁸¹ All banks keep money deposited with one or more of the banks located at some one of the commercial centers of the country, as New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, New Orleans, etc., against which they draw drafts to sell to their customers for remittance to creditors, these drafts passing everywhere current as eash.

GENERAL RULE FOR JOURNALIZING DRAFTS WHEN DRAWN ON ACCOUNT.

¹⁹¹ Debit the person who draws the draft on you. ¹⁹² Credit the person on whom you draw a draft.

EXAMPLE No. 37. DAY BOOK RECORD. ITEMS. TOTAL. JOURNAL ENTRY FOR SAME. DR. CR. Accepted J. T. Brown's draft on us, at 10 days' sight, favor of D. Woods, to apply on account, 400 J. T. Brown, To Bills Payable, 400

We owe Brown the above amount. He therefore has the right to order us to pay it, either to himself or to another. In accepting the draft—that is, in agreeing to its conditions in writing—we issue our written promise to pay, and must therefore credit Bills Payable. We debit Brown because we get out of his debt by agreeing in writing to pay this amount to another party.

EXAMPLE No. 38.

DAY BOOK RECORD. JOURNAL ENTRY FOR SAME. Drew a draft at 60 days Discount, 1.04 after date, on Marsh 98|96| Cash, Bro's, Kansas City, and discounted it at City To Marsh Bro's, 100 100 Bank, Discount for 63 days, Rec'd cash for proceeds,

Marsh Bro's owe us the above amount, due in 60 days. Having immediate use for the money, we draw a draft upon them and get it discounted at City Bank. By paying the above draft, Marsh Bro's will get out of our debt. We therefore give them credit, Cash and Discount being debited. Should Marsh Bro's fail to honor the draft, however, we should be obliged to refund the money to the bank, in which case Marsh Bro's would be debited back, thus placing their account as it was before the draft was drawn.

EXAMPLE No. 39.

DAY BOOK RECORD.		JOURNAL ENTRY FOR SAME.
Prepaid our acceptance in favor of Wm. Heath, Discount off, 40 days, Paid balance in cash,	1 64 248 36	Bills Payable, To Discont Cash,	ınt, 250	$ \begin{array}{c c} 1 & 64 \\ 248 & 36 \end{array} $

At the time of accepting the above draft, we issued our written promise to pay, and therefore Bills Payable must have been credited. We now debit Bills Payable, because our written promise to pay has been redeemed.

EXAMPLE No. 40.

DAY BOOK RECORD.		JOURNAL ENTRY FOR	SAME.
Paid Geo. D. Baker's draft on us, at 60 days' sight, less discount. Face of draft, Discount off, 63 days, Paid balance by check on City Bank,	3 11 300 300 89	Geo. D. Baker, To Discount, " City Bank	300	3 11 296 89

We pay the above draft drawn upon us by Baker when it is presented, instead of accepting it, and therefore credit Discount and City Bank instead of crediting Bills Payable, as in Example No. 37 above.

EXAMPLE No. 41.

DAY BOOK RECORD.	JOURNAL ENTRY FOR SAME.
Had C. T. Meldrum's acceptance discounted at City Bank, Discount off, 48 days, Proceeds placed to our credit,	City Bank, Discount, To Bills Receivable,

When the above draft was received by us and accepted by Meldrum, we must have debited Bills Receivable, because the written promise to pay of another person had come into our possession. We therefore credit Bills Receivable now, because such written promise to pay is disposed of.

Note.—After you have carefully read the foregoing rules and explanations, you may proceed with the month of April. You are to admit Mr. D. W. Leonard as an equal partner in the business, he to invest an amount of eash equal to your present worth, as shown by your Balance Sheet of March 31st.

In a business conducted by a partnership, an account is usually opened in the Ledger with each partner, in which he is credited with his share of the investment and also his share of the gains, or is debited with his share of the losses.

A "Stock" account is sometimes opened in a partnership business, instead of an account with each partner, which is credited with the combined investment of the partners, and at stated periods is credited with the entire net gain of the business, or debited with the net loss. In such case a "Stock Ledger" is kept by the partners, upon which each has an account showing his interest in the business,

In the month of April the first plan will be adopted.

Note.—After copying the Day Book, and before proceeding to journalize, draw up, on cap paper, all of the drafts referred to in the transactions for the month, and present to the teacher for approval. See forms of drafts on pages 41, 42 and 43. Next journalize and post. If an account gets crowded for space, transfer it to a new page. See instructions (154, page 36) for transferring an account. Open Leonard's account in the middle of page 1 in your Ledger. Give personal accounts hereafter one-fourth of a page space; others one-half of a page, until otherwise instructed.

On May 1st Alex. Mitchell is to be admitted as a partner; you may therefore make out Balanee Sheet similar to that for March. In the form of Balance Sheet given below, only a few of the amounts are extended, the student being required to complete the extensions, foot the columns and prove his results, as indicated in the Summary below. (Refer to "Guide for making Balance Sheet for March," on page 32, and also to "Trial Balance and Balance Sheet for March," on page 34.) Remember that you are to foot the accounts in your Ledger in pencil, and earry the footings to the first two columns of your Balance Sheet, and foot those columns, to ascertain whether your Ledger is in balance, before you proceed to extend the Resources, Liabilities, Losses and Gains to the other columns. Should the first two columns not foot equally—in other words, should your trial balance not prove—see note No. 2, page 26:

After completing your Balance Sheet for April, proceed to close in the Ledger those accounts only which exhibit losses and gains, together with the Loss and Gain and Partners' accounts, in accordance with the General Rules for Closing the Ledger, on pages 35 and 36. For assistance in closing Mdsc., see 145, page 35; Expense, 145, page 35; Interest, 148, page 35; Discount, 148, page 35; Loss and Gain account (for partnership), 151, page 36; Student's and Leonard's accounts, 152, page 36.

The accounts which remain unclosed show only Resources and Liabilities, the difference between which is the Present Worth, as exhibited by the partners' accounts. Before proceeding with May, present your books to the teacher for approval, and be prepared to answer the following

Note No. 1.—From June 1, the day the above note is discounted, to July 20, its maturity, the time is 49 days, counting the actual number of days. The student will remember that if the time is in days, 365 days, or if the time is in months, 12 months for a year, are to be taken as a basis in computing interest and discount, unless otherwise specified.

When paper is drawn in months, the practice differs, somewhat, with places and individuals, as to the manner of finding time, and computing interest and discount. For the sake of uniformity and accuracy, the method explained below will be observed throughout this book. To illustrate: A note of \$500, dated May 17, at 4 months, is discounted June 23. The time between June 23, the day the note is discounted, and September 20, the maturity of the note, $\frac{19}{16}$ mo. $\frac{20}{23}$ da. $\frac{1}{10}$ The discount for 2 months is 5.00 and September 20, the maturity of the note, $\frac{19}{16}$ mo. $\frac{20}{23}$ da. $\frac{1}{10}$ The discount for 2 months is 5.00 and September 20, the maturity of the note, $\frac{19}{16}$ mo. $\frac{20}{23}$ da. $\frac{1}{10}$ The discount for 2 months is 5.00 and September 20, the maturity of the note, $\frac{19}{16}$ mo. $\frac{20}{16}$ da. $\frac{1}{10}$ The discount for 2 months is 5.00 and September 20, the maturity of the note, $\frac{19}{16}$ mo. $\frac{20}{16}$ da. $\frac{1}{10}$ The discount for 2 months is 5.00 and $\frac{1}{10}$ days $\frac{1}{10}$ d

 $\frac{2 \text{ mo. } 27 \text{ days}}{} = \frac{7.25}{}$

If the note to be discounted is an interest bearing note, first compute the interest upon the face of the note from the date it begins to draw interest to maturity; then add the interest to the face of the note, and compute discount upon the amount thus obtained, from the date of discounting the note to its maturity. The face, plus the interest, minus the discount, will be the proceeds of the note.

REAL ESTATE.

EXPENSE.

Leonard and Mitchell propose to buy Student's interest in the business, and pay him eash, as his Present Worth shall show upon closing the Ledger, they assuming all the resources and liabilities of the old firm. Student agrees to the proposition, as he is desirous of engaging in the Produce and Commission business on July 1st.

You may therefore make out a Balance Sheet, showing the exact condition of the business, as heretofore instructed.

The difference between the Dr. and Cr. sides of a few of the principal accounts in your Ledger, independent of inventories, should be as follows: Bills Payable, 150.00; Discount, 41c.; Cash, 339.70; Mdse., 292.63; Expense, 477.00; Bills Receivable, 525.00; Interest, 3.82; College Bank, 7428.83.

If correct, the results exhibited by your Balance Sheet should be as follows:

SUMMARY.

Total Gains,	986 38 231 23	Student's Net	Credit, et Gain,	$\begin{array}{ c c c c c }\hline 4840 & 39 \\ \hline 302 & 06 \\ \hline \end{array}$

After completing Balance Sheet, balance and rule up all of the accounts in the Ledger. (See General Rules for Closing the Ledger, page 35; also see closed Ledger, on pages 38 and 39). After completing the work, present your books to the teacher for inspection; also prepare for examination upon all the work passed over, as outlined by the following:

Note.—Before proceeding with the month of July, study carefully the following explanations and examples,

SHIPMENTS.

Dr.

¹⁹³ Shipment is debited at the time the property is shipped, for its estimated value (usually its cost), and for all expenses,

¹⁹⁴ Shipment is credited at the time of receiving an account sales, for the net proceeds.

when property is shipped to be sold on commission, the person who ships it opens an account upon his books with "Shipment," to represent the property which has passed from his possession, but not from his ownership. ¹⁹⁶ To distinguish different shipments, the name of the place or party is generally used with the number of the shipment, thus: "Shipment to Detroit, No. 1," "Shipment to Brown & Co., Baltimore, No. 3," etc. ¹⁹⁷ The person who ships the property is called the "Consignor." ¹⁹⁸ After the property has been disposed of, a statement showing the sales and all the charges is rendered to the Consignor. Such a statement is called an "Account Sales." ¹⁹⁹ The difference between the sales and all the charges is called the "Net Proceeds." ²⁰⁰ After the Shipment has been credited with the net proceeds, it will show either a gain or a loss. ²⁰¹ If a statement of the business were to be made before receiving an account sales, the value of the shipment would be treated as a resource inventory.

CONSIGNMENTS.

Dr.

Cr.

203 Consignment is credited for all sales of property belonging to it.

when property is received to be sold on commission, the party receiving it opens an account upon his books with "Consignment," to represent the property which has come into his possession, but not his ownership. 205 To distinguish different consignments, the name of the Consignor is generally used and the number of the consignment, thus: "J. D. Winslow's Consignment No. 2," etc. 206 The party who receives the property is called the "Consignee." 207 After the closing entry has been made, debiting the consignment for the final charges and net proceeds, the consignment will balance. 208 If a statement of the business were to be made before closing the consignment, and the charges upon it to the time of the statement exceeded the sales, the difference would be a resource. 208 If the sales exceeded the charges, the difference would be a liability.

Note No. 1.—The Day Book, as a separate book, will hereafter be dispensed with, and the history of the transactions written in the Journal, or other book of original entry (12, page 5). In the form shown on page 64, both debits and credits are entered at the left side of the page, the right side being reserved for the explanations. The debits are to be entered first. The credits may be distinguished by having the sign "To" placed before them. The explanations are to be written about one-third smaller than the journal entries.

Note No. 2.—An auxiliary book, called the Bill Book, is to be kept, to show the particulars regarding the Bills Payable and Bills Receivable which you issue and receive. The form shown on page 71 is arranged for both notes and drafts. The Drawer of a draft and the Endorser of a note sustain substantially the same relation to the paper; both are therefore entered in one column. The same is true also of the Drawee of a draft and the Maker of a note. Three days of grace are always to be added in giving the maturity of paper. As soon as you have made an entry in the Journal for a Bills Payable issued or Bills Receivable received, turn at once to the Bill Book and enter it there also. When a Bill has been paid, or disposed of in any manner, state the fact in the proper column in the Bill Book.

Note No. 3.—In cases of this kind the interest accrued does not represent a gain, but a liability. It may be credited to Interest account, however, since by debiting the whole amount of interest to Interest account when the note is disposed of, the temporary fictitious gain is adjusted, the difference showing the actual loss for the time such note was in the business. In case a statement of the business should be desired before the note is disposed of, the interest accound to the time of such statement would be debited to the Interest account as a liability inventory. If the note were a Bills Receivable instead of a Bills Payable, the above conditions would be reversed.

Note No. 4.—Whenever a cash sale is made during the day, the amount is entered upon a slip of paper. At the close of the day's business these slips are added together, and the amount should agree with the cash in the drawer. An entry is then made upon the books for the whole amount, debiting Cash and crediting Mdse.

Memorandum.—The Store and contents were last night destroyed by fire. Nothing was saved except the books and papers. No insurance.

Student has decided to accept a proposition made to him by Geo. D. Whitney, to form a co-partnership and continue the Hardware Business.

Make a Balance Sheet, and close the Ledger for October. The following are a few of the results which should be shown by your Balance Sheet: Balance in Bank, 626,85; Bills Payable outstanding, 200,00; Bills Receivable, account balances; Difference in Interest and Discount account, 1.37; Mdse. sales for October, 984.75; Net Loss, 705.04; Proprietor's Insolvency, 71.74.

In closing the accounts which show gains and losses, you may transfer the differences directly to the Proprietor's account, instead of carrying them through the Loss and Gain account. Close and bring down the balances of the accounts showing resources and liabilities. Take a Trial Balance of these balances before proceeding with November. (See 161-162, page 40.)

Note.—The endorsement of this note being a transaction of Student not connected with the business, the loss is to be debited to his account instead of to Loss and Gain account.

Give each new account one-third of a page space. After you have completed the posting, take a Trial Balance. Should your Trial Balance not prove, see 94 to 109, page 21. SINGLE ENTRY.

¹The distinguishing feature of Single Entry book-keeping is, that only Personal accounts are kept in the Ledger.

² This system of book-keeping contemplates such a record, or the filing of such documents for reference only, as will enable the proprietor to determine at any time the Resources and Liabilities of his business, which cannot be found by taking an inventory.

³ For this purpose the practice is to journalize and post personal accounts only. Cash receipts and payments are entered in the Cash Book, and Bills Receivable and Bills Payable in the Bill Book.

'It is sometimes found necessary to employ additional books of record, the number and character depending upon the nature and extent of the information which it is desired to preserve: as, Order Book, Invoice Book, Sales Book, etc.

⁵ Since no accounts showing gains and losses are kept in Single Entry, it follows that an itemized statement of the gains and losses of the business cannot be obtained.

⁶ The Net Gain or Net Loss of the business can be determined, however, in the following manner: First ascertain the Present Worth, by finding the difference between the Resources and Liabilities, and then compare it with the Investment.

⁷ If the present worth is greater than the investment, the difference shows a net gain; if less, a net loss.

The following sets are designed to illustrate book-keeping by Single Entry, also changing Single Entry books to Double Entry. The books to be used are Journal, Ledger, Cash Book and Bill Book. The form of Journal is illustrated on page 82. Cash Book and Bill Book are to be kept in the form used heretofore.

The books are to be changed to double entry after you have completed the posting, full instructions for which are given below. You should study those instructions very carefully, and perform the work precisely as they direct.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CHANGING THE BOOKS TO DOUBLE ENTRY.

1st. *An inventory is to be taken of the Mdse, and other property on hand, its value being estimated at what the property could be purchased for at the present time. The result of such inventory is as follows:

INVENTORY, JANUARY 16, 188-.

Mdse. on hand, per Inventory Book,	270 72
Horse and Wagon, valued at
Store and Lot, " "	2500 00

Note.—You may copy the above Inventory in your Journal, immediately following the last entry.

2d. The resources and liabilities exhibited by the various books, viz: Ledger, Cash Book and Bill Book, are next to be obtained, and, with the Inventories, arranged in a convenient form, as shown below, for determining the condition of the business.

Note.—Make a Statement like the above in your Trial Balance or Statement book. Do not copy the above form merely, but verify all of the results by your own books.

- 3d. ¹⁰ The Present Worth is found, as shown above, by taking the difference between the Resources and Liabilities; and ¹¹ the Net Gain is then found by taking the difference between the Present Worth and the Investment.
- 4th. ¹² Since in Single Entry the Ledger contains only a portion of the Resources and Liabilities, viz: Personal accounts, it is apparent that, to change it to Double Entry, such additional accounts must be opened as will cause the Ledger to exhibit all of the Resources and Liabilities of the business, as shown by the foregoing Statement; and ¹³ the Net Gain must be credited to the Proprietor's account.
- Note.—You may now proceed, in accordance with the above instructions, to open the additional accounts required to place your Ledger in the Double Entry form. After you have completed this work, your accounts should correspond with those given on pages 86–87. Mdsc. will require one-half of a page space; all other accounts one-fourth of a page each.
- 5th. ¹⁴ After the change to Double Entry has been made in accordance with the foregoing directions, your Ledger must be in balance, because all of the Resources appear upon the Dr. side, and all of the Liabilities and the Present Worth, which is the difference between the Resources and Liabilities, appear upon the Cr. side.

In addition to the Personal accounts, however, a Bank account is to be kept in the Ledger. A different form for keeping a Single Entry Cash Book is also introduced (see form above). On March 1 the books are to be changed to Double Entry, and the business continued through March by that method.

Note No. 2.—For the purpose of illustrating both methods of computing interest and discount, the one in general use in business will hereafter be used, viz: 360 days, or 42 months of 30 days each, will be considered a year, and taken as a basis of computation. The Student is recommended to use the 6 per cent, or short method of working interest and discount.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Page 81.—¹ What is the distinguishing feature of Single Entry book-keeping? ² To what extent is it necessary to record business transactions in Single Entry? ³ What books are generally used? ⁴ What additional books are sometimes employed? ⁵ In Single Entry, why can you not show in detail your gains and losses? ⁶ How do you determine your Net Gain or Net Loss? ⁷ When will the results exhibit a Net Loss?

Page 85.— What is the first step preparatory to changing books from Single to Double Entry? The second step? In Why must the Present Worth be found before the Net Gain or Net Loss can be determined? In What additional accounts is it necessary to open to change the Ledger to Double Entry? In What is the final step to place the Ledger in balance? In Why is the Ledger then in balance?

Miscellaneous.—From what sources do yot, get the information necessary to make out a statement of the Resources and Liabilities? Could you find your Net Gain or Net Loss if you did not know what you were worth at commencing? Could you find your present worth? If in making out the statement preparatory to changing to Double Entry, a resource should be omitted, how would it affect the Net Gain? What entry would be made in the Double Entry books to correct such an omission?

SPECIAL COLUMN JOURNAL.

¹ The Special Column Journal is a Journal provided with special or separate columns for those items which occur most frequently in the business.

² The advantage of using this form of Johnnal is in the saving of time and labor by not posting to the accounts the separate items which are carried to the special columns, ³ the footings only of these columns being posted daily, weekly or monthly, as desired.

⁴All items for which no special columns are provided are placed in the General or Sundries column, and each item posted separately, as in the ordinary Journal form.

In the form illustrated on page 94 two special columns, Cash and Mdse., are used on each side of the Journal. ⁵ The number of special columns is not limited, however. ⁶ Any item which occurs with sufficient frequency, either upon the debit or credit side, to make it desirable, may have a special column provided for it. In many kinds of business it is desirable to provide a special column for Expense upon the debit side of the Journal.

⁷ The columns are to be footed at the bottom of each page, and proved before being carried forward to the next page. ⁸ The sum of the three columns upon the debit side of the Journal must equal the sum of the three upon the credit side.

⁹ In extending the amounts, particular care must be exercised, or errors will be made by extending amounts to the wrong columns. ¹⁰⁻¹¹ The Ledger would not balance if a special column item were by mistake placed in the Sundries column, or a Sundries column item in a special column, because in the first case the amount would be omitted, and in the second case it would be posted twice.

The transactions for the preceding month of January are used in illustrating this method.

The books to be used are the Special Column Journal, Bill Book and Ledger. The form of the Journal is illustrated on pages 94–98.

Perform the work from the memoranda, however, consulting the illustrations only when necessary. The letters J., C. B. and B. B., together with the notes given in the memoranda, apply to the Single Entry work, and are not to be observed in working this set.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

What does the foregoing set illustrate? How is an Executor appointed? What are his duties? How are his fees computed? How is the amount found upon which they are computed? Why will every account balance at the close?

PETTY LEDGER.

The following set is designed to illustrate a method of book-keeping by which all transient accounts may be kept without opening them in the principal Ledger.

² An auxiliary Ledger, called the Petty Ledger, is employed, in which all accounts are opened that are not likely to be permanent, active accounts; and in the principal or main Ledger an account called Petty Accounts is opened, to represent these transient accounts and to keep the main Ledger in balance.

³ This method saves space in, and facilitates taking a trial balance of, the main Ledger.

The books to be used are the Journal, Cash Book, Bill Book, Petty Ledger and Main Ledger.

You may now balance the Cash Book and post the month's business, giving each account one-fourth of a page space, except Petty Accounts, which will require one-half of a page. Post the footing only of the Mdse. Sales column to the credit of Merchandise account, and the footings of the Cash Book to the Cash account, as heretofore instructed, omitting to post the erodit items of Mdse, and the Cash items in posting from the Journal.

MERCHANDISE.—Per Inventory Book,

EXPENSE.—Furniture and Fixtures,

After you have completed the posting, prove first the Petty Ledger, as explained and illustrated below.

The Petty Ledger does not balance, but may be proved as follows: ⁵ Find the difference between the sides of the Petty Ledger, and compare it with the difference between the sides of the account with Petty Accounts, in the Main Ledger; the two differences should agree.

⁶ The reason of this is obvious, since for every entry made in the Petty Ledger a corresponding amount was entered to the same side of the account with Petty Accounts in the Main Ledger.

Close your Cash Book and post the month's business. Remember that the footings only of the Cash Book and of the Mdse. Sales column need be posted. After you have completed the posting, prove the Petty Ledger, as instructed for last month. The accounts in the Petty Ledger need not be closed. Make out a Balance Sheet and close the accounts in the Main Ledger.

Balance of Petty Accounts,	147 25

⁸ Another method of keeping transient accounts is to open in the Main Ledger an account called "Miscellaneous Accounts," or some other appropriate title, under which all accounts not likely to be permanent, active accounts may be placed, instead of keeping them in a Petty Ledger, as illustrated below.

⁹ You will observe by the above form that the space occupied by each account is one line only. ¹⁹ When an account is settled, the credit is entered on the line directly opposite the debit, thus showing the account balanced. ¹¹ When an account is not paid in full at one payment, the account may be closed and the balance unpaid transferred to a new line, or the payments may be short extended, as shown above. It is sometimes desirable to keep "Misc. Accounts Receivable" and "Misc. Accounts Payable."

Hand to the teacher, on a slip of paper, a proof of the balances brought down in closing the Ledger; also present your books for inspection.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Page 103.—¹ What does the Petty Ledger set illustrate? ² Describe the method. ³ What are the advantages to be derived from its use?

Page 105.— What advantage is derived in this set from using an additional column for Mdse, sales? Page 106.— How is the Petty Ledger proved? Explain the reason for it.

Page 107.—7 What entry is made to transfer an account from the Petty Ledger to the Main Ledger?

Page 108.— What other form may be used for keeping transient accounts to save space in the Main Ledger? By this form, how much space does each transient account occupy? When an account is settled, where is the credit entry made? If an account is not paid in full at one payment, how is the entry made?

CASH METHOD.

¹The method illustrated in the following set combines the Day Book, Journal at I Cash Book in one book, called the Cash Journal, or simply Journal, in which book all entries are to be made, whether cash forms any part of the transaction or not.

² This form of book-keeping is best adapted to a business in which the transactions are mainly for eash.

³ The principal advantages of the method are, that it employs a less number of books, and saves time and labor in posting cash.

RULES FOR CASH METHOD.

Decide what the journal entry would be for the transaction in the ordinary form, then:

First.—'If Cash be the only debit, enter all of the credit items on the left side, which debits Cash.

Second.—5 If Cash be the only credit, enter all of the debit items on the right side, which credits Cash.

Third.—⁶ If the entry consists of several debits and credits, one of which is Cash, leaving out the Cash, enter all the debits on the right side, which credits Cash, and enter all the credits on the left side, which debits Cash. The difference will show the cash received or paid out.

Fourth.—⁷ If no Cash is involved in the transaction, enter the credits on the left side and the debits on the right side. The footings of the two sides will thus be increased equally, and the balance of cash will remain unchanged.

The books to be used in this set are the Cash Journal and Ledger.

MONDAY, JULY 5, 188-.

Student invests cash, 20,000.

Make the entry on the bft side of the Journal, which credits Student and debits Cash. See form on page 140.

E. A. Wooden invests cash, 30,000. (Same as previous entry.)

Remit by express, to Bank of Commerce, New York, for your credit, cash, 15,000.

Make the entry on the right side of the Journal, which debits Bank of Commerce and credits Cash.

Receive cash of H. E. Sankey on deposit, 2000.

Make the entry on the left side, which credits Sankey and debits Cash,

Remit by express, 10 Merchants' Bank, Boston, for your credit, cash, 10,000.

Entry on right side of Journal.

Pay II. E. Sankey's check on you in eash, 500.

Entry on right side, which debits Sankey and Credits Cash.

Receive cash of J. W. Gardner on deposit, 3000,00.

Discount for C. G. Teall a note made by R. N. Smith, 2500,00. Discount, 9.60. Pay him the proceeds in cash, 2490,40.

Enter Bills Receivable, 2500, on the right side of the Journal, which debits Bills Receivable and credits Cash 2500. Then enter Discount, 9.60, on the bft side, which credits Discount and debits Cash 9.60. Cash having been thus credited 2500 and debited 9.60, the net credit to Cash is 2490.40, as shown by the difference, the actual amount of cash paid out.

Pay J. W. Gardner's check on you in eash, 300,00,

Pay express charges on remittances to New York and Boston in cash, 2.50.

The Journal is now to be balanced for the day, as shown on pages 110-111. ⁶ It will be apparent that the footings of the Journal cannot exhibit the actual amount of cash received and disbursed, since m many of the entries a part only is cash, and in others no cash whatever is involved.

⁹ The footing of the left side of the Journal represents the total credits of the business, except the credit of cash; ¹⁰ the footing of the right side the total debits of the business, except the debit of eash; ¹¹ the difference between these footings must therefore exhibit the excess of cash received or paid out during the day. ¹² The balance for the previous day being added to the footing of the left side of the Journal, the difference between the sides will then show the cash on hand.

After balancing the Journal, post the day's business. Give each account one-fourth of a page space. ¹³ In posting, credit all of the items upon the left side, and debit eash with the total of these items. The debit and credit sides of the Ledger are thus kept equal. Debit all of the items upon the right side, and credit Cash with the total of these items. Here again equal debits and credits are posted to the Ledger.

You may omif the explanations from the Ledger in posting this set. The work of Monday and Tuesday is posted in full below.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Page 109.—¹ Define the Cash Method. ² To what kind of business is it best adapted? ³ What are its principal advantages? ⁴ For transactions in which Cash is the only debit, how is the entry to be made in the Cash Journal? ⁵ How if Cash is the only credit? ⁶ How if there are several debits and credits, one of which is Cash? ⁷ How if no Cash enters into the transaction?

Page 112.—8 Why do not the footings of the Journal show the cash received and disbursed? 9 What does the footing of the left side represent? 10 The right side? 11 What will the difference between these footings represent? 12 How is the balance of cash on hand found? 13 Explain the manner of posting and how the Ledger is kept in balance.

Page 114.—14 In bringing down the balance of the previous day, to which column is it carried?

15 Why?

SHIPPING AND COMMISSION.

¹ This set is designed to illustrate a general business in shipping property to and receiving property from other parties, to be sold on commission. The same principles are involved as explained and illustrated on pages 55-57.

² In addition to the Journal, a Commission Sales Book and Cash Book are to be kept as ³ principal books. ⁴ Those entries only which pertain to consignments are to be made in the Sales Book. ⁵ Entries involving eash are to be made in the Cash Book. ⁶ All other entries are to be made in the Journal.

The simpler forms only of Commission Sales Book and Cash Book are illustrated in this set.

Special columns may sometimes be profitably introduced in these books, and when found advantageous, they can easily be added to meet the requirements of any particular branch of the Commission business.

Give each Consignment one-third of a page space in the Sales Book. Cash is checked in the Sales Book and omitted in posting, because the entry in the Cash Book credits Cash; and Hamlin's Consignment is checked in the Cash Book and omitted in posting, because the entry in the Sales Book debits Hamlin's Consignment; otherwise these amounts would be posted twice.

3. Sell M. B. Steele, on %, from Hamlin's Consignment, 400 bn. W. Oats, @ 45c. (S. B.)

You may now balance your Cash Book, after which post the foregoing entries. Post from the Journal as heretofore. *Post from the Cash Book and Sales Book as instructed for the Cash Method; that is, all items on the left side are to be credited, and all on the right side debited. You need not in this set, however, open in the Ledger a Cash account nor accounts with Consignments. *When taking a Trial Balance, carry to it the balance of cash on hand, as shown by the Cash Book, and the balances of all unclosed Consignments, as shown by the Sales Book. All items that are checked are not to be posted. In posting the items not checked, use the Ledger folio as a check mark. Give each account one-fourth of a page space.

Commence with the Cash Book, and complete the posting from that book; then follow with the Sales Book in same manner, and then with the Journal. The dates will not come in regular order in the Ledger by this method of posting, but this is not material. After you have finished posting from all of the books, your Ledger accounts should agree with those given on pages 120–121.

Take a Trial Balance, and it should agree with the one given on next page. The debits and credits in Foster Bro's Consignment and Harding & Lee's Consignment being unequal, as shown by your Sales Book, it becomes necessary to enter them in the Trial Balance; also enter in the Trial Balance the balance of cash on hand, as shown by the Cash Book.

QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Page 117.—¹ What does this set illustrate? ² What books are employed? ³ Are they used as principal or auxiliary books? ⁴ What entries are made in the Sales Book? ⁵ In the Cash Book? ⁵ In the Journal?

Page 122.— Why are Cash and Consignments checked and omitted in posting when they appear in any other books than the Cash Book and Sales Book? In posting from the Cash Book and Sales Book, how is the work to be performed? Why must unclosed Consignments and the balance of cash on hand be entered in the Trial Balance?

Note.—Review also the questions given on page 63.

WHOLESALE.

¹ This set is designed to illustrate, in a general way, a method for keeping the books of a Wholesale or Jobbing Business, ² by combining and extending the short methods of book-keeping explained and illustrated in previous sets, so that much time and labor may be saved in performing the work.

Since in almost every business of any magnitude there will be features peculiar to that particular business, there must of necessity be required other forms and books than those here given, and which it would be quite impossible to illustrate within the scope of an ordinary text book.

³ The principal books and forms, however, together with their uses and advantages, are so fully illustrated and explained, that any modifications of or additions to them, necessary to meet the requirements of any particular business, may readily be devised and employed.

The books to be used are the Journal, Sales Book, Check Book, Cash Book, Bill Book and Ledger.

EXPLANATIONS OF BOOKS USED.

JOURNAL.

'The Journal, as used in this set (see form on page 128), combines with it the Invoice Book, sometimes kept as a separate book, by the addition of an extra column (headed "Mdse. Dr." in the form), in which the purchases of Mdse. only are to be entered. 'This column is to be added and the footing carried forward from page to page until the end of the day or week or month, as desired, 'at which time the total footing is to be posted to the debit of Mdse. account. 'The items in the columns headed "Sands. Dr." and "Sands. Cr." are to be posted separately, as in the ordinary Journal. These columns may be footed, so as to prove with the Check Sheets explained on page 134. The Invoices themselves may either be tiled away in packages, or pasted in a large book made especially for that purpose. This may be used as a principal book if desired, by posting from it directly to the Ledger, without making the entries in the Journal.

SALES BOOK.

¹² The Sales Book (see form on page 129) is designed to contain sales of Mdse, only. ¹³ The net amount of each bill is to be extended to the last column, and debited to the person who purchased it. ¹⁴ The last column is to be added and the footing carried forward from page to page until the end of the day, week or month, as desired, ¹⁵ the total being then posted to the credit of Mdse, account. ¹⁶ An additional advantage may be secured by using for a Sales Book a large Copying Book, in which impressions of all of the bills may be made and posted directly to the Ledger.

CHECK BOOK.

¹⁷ In the Cheek Book (the form given on page 130 shows the stub only) is to be kept a record of all transactions with the bank, ¹⁸ and a Bank account is not to be opened in the Ledger. ¹⁹ When a deposit is made, the Bank is debited for the amount of the deposit by entering it in the Cheek Book, with the proper explanation, and ²⁰ adding the amount to the previous balance. ²¹ When a cheek is drawn, the bank is credited, by ²² deducting the amount of the cheek from the previous balance. ²³ No entry is to be made in the Cash Book when cash is deposited, ²⁴ the balance in bank being treated as cash on hand. ²⁵ When a payment is made by cheek, therefore, the amount must be entered to the credit of cash in the Cash Book, in addition to crediting the bank in the Cheek Book, because reducing the bank balance reduces the cash balance at the same time.

CASH BOOK.

The Cash Book (see form on pages 130–131) is designed to contain cash entries only. It is arranged with special columns, in order to classify to some extent the receipts and payments of eash, and to facilitate the work of posting. It footings only of the special columns are to be posted daily, weekly or monthly, as desired, those on the left side being credited, and those on the right debited. It has a desired, those on the left side credited, and those on the left side credited, and those on the right debited. In posting to the Cash account in the Ledger, the difference in the cash balances only is to be posted. If the balance of cash on hand is less than at the last posting, Cash account is to be credited with the difference; if more, is to be debited. To prove the cash, add together the footings of all of the columns on the left side of the Cash Book, and the amount will be the total debit of Cash; then add together the footings of all of the columns on the right side, and and the amount will be the total credit of Cash. The difference between these two amounts will be the balance of cash on hand, which is found by adding the cash in safe and the balance in bank together.

BILL BOOK.

³⁸ The Bill Book is to be kept as an auxiliary book, the same as heretofore. ³⁹ It may be kept as a principal book; but as a rule the entries in it are so few, comparatively, that most book-keepers prefer to journalize such entries.

TRIAL BALANCE

⁴⁰ The form of Trial Balance shown on page 134 is called a Continued Trial Balance, and ⁴¹ is designed to save the time and labor consumed in re-copying the titles of the various accounts whenever a Trial Balance is to be taken.

LEDGER INDEX.

A common form of Ledger Index is illustrated on page 131. ⁴² A convenient plan for such an Index, if the number of accounts is not too great, is to arrange the names alphabetically, as shown in the form on page 131, written upon a stiff eard of suitable size, which can stand in front of the person who is posting, making it much easier to be referred to than the ordinary form of Index. ⁴³ When the number of accounts is very large, a Vowel Index is generally employed.

It is customary in business to post the items from the various books every day, and after posting to review the work, re-examining and re-checking every entry, to detect any error which may have been made in the work, and to avoid if possible a "refractory" trial balance at the end of the month.

The following plan is sometimes substituted for the re-checking process, and proves very effective, especially where the book-keeper is provided with an assistant:

A sheet of paper or card, called a "Check Sheet," or "Check Card," of about foolscap size, ruled in narrow columns, is provided for each book from which posting is to be done. Before the work of posting begins, the assistant enters from the Index the Ledger folio against each amount which is to be posted. He then finds the account in the Ledger, and the book-keeper, after observing that he has turned to the right account, posts the entry, checking it thus $\sqrt{}$ in the book from which it was posted. After checking the entry, he takes a second look at the amount as it stands in the Ledger, and, while the assistant is finding the next account, he enters it upon the Check Sheet corresponding with the book from which it was posted. At the end of the day the footings of the several sheets and the footings of the corresponding books must of course agree.

The above plan is almost an absolute check upon omissions, upon a transposition of figures and upon posting to the wrong account.

The illustrations given below represent the Check Sheets of the Journal, Sales Book and Cash Book for the previous ten days' posting.

You may now post the entries for the foregoing ten days' business. See explanations and illustrations on page 134 for using check sheets. Give each account one-fourth of a page space. First post from the Journal. See 4 to 8, page 127, for instructions. See also the Journal form on page 128, showing the columns footed and ruled. Use the Ledger folio to check the posting. The pages of your books will not, of course, correspond with those given in the forms. After opening an account in the Ledger, place the title in the index, together with the number of the page upon which it is opened. See illustration on page 131, also see explanations on page 127. Next post from the Sales Book; see 13–15, page 127. See also form of Sales Book on page 129, showing the Mdse, column footed and ruled.

Balance and prove the cash before commencing to post from the Cash Book. For instructions, see 34–37 page 127. See form of Cash Book on pages 130 and 131, showing the manner of footing and ruling the columns, and bringing down the balance of cash on hand. Cash in Safe, 1332.10; Balance in Bank, shown by Check Book Stub, page 130, 4816.95.

After you have completed the posting, your Ledger should correspond with the one given on pages 132-3-4. Next take a trial balance, using the Continued Trial Balance form as illustrated on page 135. See 40-41 page 127. If no such form is provided in your Trial Balance book, you may rule one. The Ledger titles are all to be entered in the trial balance; but those which balance need not be extended. The footings of the columns are not given in the form; you are to foot and prove them, however, as heretofore. You need not rule up any of the personal accounts, even when settled in full, but continue the pencil footings until the end of the month, in order that the footing of each person's account in the Ledger may show the entire amount of goods bought of or sold to him during that period. Business men frequently carry out this plan through an entire year's business.

After completing the trial balance, continue the work in the same manner as in the preceding ten days' business.

Write up the business forms wherever called for by the Memoranda, and take particular pains with the penmanship, spelling and general appearance of these documents.

Note.—46 Debit each partner interest upon amounts drawn out by him from the time of such withdrawal to the time of settlement, and credit him interest upon amounts invested by him from the time of such investment to the time of settlement. ⁴⁷ It is unnecessary to compute interest upon the original investments when they are equal, as in this case, because the interest balance to each partner's account would not be affected thereby.

Note.—Should the teacher consider it desirable the student may be required to draw up all of the papers and forms in the foregoing memoranda. In the absence of an actual business department especially, it would be best to make such a requirement.

Excellent drill for the student could also be secured by requiring him to continue the foregoing business for ten or twenty days longer, originating his own transactions. If this plan were pursued, an amount would have to be assumed for a Mdse, inventory at the time of closing the books.

RETAILER'S BOOKS,

(DOUBLE ENTRY,)

DESIGNED FOR RETAIL GROCERIES, MARKETS, SHOPS, ETC.

The following arrangement of books and records is designed to illustrate a popular system of book-keeping for a retail business. While it does not strictly conform to the principles of Double Entry book-keeping, inasmuch as the Merchandise account is not made to show all of the purchases and sales, yet the final results are just as accurate, and are obtained at a great saving of time and labor.

² The books required are an Order Book, Cash Book, Journal, Personal Ledger and Ledger. The Order Book and Personal Ledger are used as auxiliary books; the others as principal.

The ³ Order Book is a cheap, coarse book, made usually with a page about twelve inches long and five inches wide, and hes upon the counter. In it are entered the orders as they are received during the day. ⁴ Goods to be delivered, that are paid for when ordered, are entered regularly in the Order Book, and the word ⁴ Paid ⁷ written across the order. ⁵ If not paid, the items are entered in the purchaser's account in the Personal Ledger at the close of the day's business.

⁶ The Cash Book does not differ from the form already illustrated, and is used as a principal book. It need not be closed oftener than once a week, or once a month—The first column on the debit side is devoted to cash sales of Mdse.

⁷ The Journal contains all entries excepting those made in the Cash Book. ⁸ The Journal may be dispensed with by using the Cash Book as illustrated in the Cash Method, on pages 110–111.

⁹ The Personal Ledger contains accounts with customers only, and is entirely an auxiliary book. ¹⁰ Sales on account are regarded as merchandise on hand until the accounts are paid, at which time Merchandise is credited with such payments. ¹¹ The ordinary Journal ruling is considered preferable for a Personal Ledger of this character, as it affords more room for items. ¹² All statements may be made out from the Personal Ledger without referring to any other book.

¹³ The Ledger is used as in any other business.

The student will be expected to post and take a Trial Balance at the end of the first week, and close the Ledger at the end of the second week. ¹⁴ The accounts in the Personal Ledger will have to be included in the inventory in closing the Merchandise account. ¹⁵ No Bank account will be kept in the Ledger. ¹⁶ The Cash Book will exhibit all cash in bank and on hand, as illustrated in the Wholesale Business on page 131. ¹⁷ You will credit Cash when a check is given, and make no entry for deposits, except in the Check Book.

MEMORANDA OF TRANSACTIONS.

[NOT TO BE COPIED.]

NOVEMBER 1, 188-.

I have commenced a Retail Grocery and Provision Business this day, in the store No. 294 Main Street, leased of J. A. Reed for five years, at $600.00 per year.

Appropriated as capital 2500.00, as shown by a pass book containing a credit to my account at First National Bank. (C. B., pages 146-147.)

At the close of the first day's business I find upon the desk memoranda of business transacted as follows:

Receipted bills for an Iron Safe, 100.00; Horse, 125.00; Harness, 12.00; Wagon, 60.00; Platfor, Scales, 35.00; Counter Scales, 26.00; and Office Books, 7.00; purchased by check. (C. B.)

An invoice of Groceries, Wooden Ware, etc., purchased of Smith, Perkins & Co., City, amounting to 725.80. The terms of purchase are 6 months, or 5 and $2\frac{1}{2}$ off for each. Paid by check. (C. B.)

An invoice of Groceries, Provisions, Canned Goods, etc., purchased of H. A. Brewster & Co., City amounting to 1087.50. Terms, 10 days. (J., page 146.)

Note.—In a business of this character considerable merchandise in the form of fruit, vegetables, etc., is daily purchased of gardeners, and paid for out of the cash drawer. In such case no entry is necessary, as the merchandise purchased replaces other goods sold, for which this cash was received.

An exchange of goods from the store for fruit, vegetables, etc., a balance being paid or received in cash, is also a common transaction, and requires no entry, for the reason indicated above. A balance received would increase the drawer cash and be entered as a sale at the end of the day, and a balance paid would reduce the amount of drawer sales, in effect showing a purchase of goods.

The following charges are found on the Order Book: Mrs. J. H. Smith, 18 Brown St., 1 lb. Japan Tea, 50c.; 10 lbs. Gran. Sugar, @ 10½c.; 1 gal. N. O. Molasses, 45c. W. L. Wood, 26 State St., 3 doz. QUESTIONS FOR REVIEW.

Page 143.— To what kind of business is this arrangement of books adapted? What books are required? * Describe the Order Book. * How are goods marked in the Order Book that are paid for when purchased? ⁶ When are the entries in the Order Book posted? ⁶ Describe the Cash Book. What does the Journal contain? * How may the Journal be dispensed with? * Describe the Personal Ledger. 10 How are sales on account regarded? 11 Why is the ordinary Journal ruling preferable for a Personal Ledger? 12 from what book will statements of customers' accounts be made? 13 How is the Ledger used? "How are the accounts in the Personal Ledger treated in closing the Ledger?" 15 Why is no Bank account in the Ledger necessary? 16 What will the Cash Book exhibit if no Bank account is kept? 17 How are deposits and checks entered?

MANUFACTURING.

The following arrangement of books is similar in all essential particulars to that of one of the most extensive furniture manufacturing firms in America, and was selected on account of its exceeding simplicity and completeness.

¹The books required are a Sales Book, Cash Book, Journal and Ledger as principal books, and a Hands Register and Bill Book as auxiliaries.

In an extensive business a book called a Tickler is sometimes kept to record the maturity of bills purchased on time on account. This book, as ordinarily used, contains columns for the date of the invoice, the purchaser's name, his address, the terms, the day of maturity, the amount and remarks. A number of pages are set aside for each month of the year, and all bills falling due in any month are entered in the space provided for that particular month.

² The Sales Book contains all sales on account, giving the articles, terms of sale and amounts.

³ The purchasers are debited direct from the Sales Book with the amount of each sale, ⁴ and Mdse, account is credited with the daily, weekly or monthly footing.

⁵ The Cash Book does not vary from the ordinary form, excepting that the debit column on the left hand page is devoted to the cash sales of merchandise. ⁶ All "Regular" bills described in the Memoranda, have four months to run; but if the purchaser chooses to settle within thirty days, he is allowed a discount. ⁷ Instead of crediting the purchaser's account in the Cash Book with the net amount of cash received, and in the Journal with the discount, the purchaser is credited in the Cash Book for the entire amount of the settlement and Discount account is debited for the discount, on the other side of the Cash Book. See Cash Book, pages 152–3. ⁸ Mdse, account is credited with the footing of the Mdse, column in the Cash Book, whenever the Cash Book is balanced. ⁹ The cash should be proved every day in pencil, but the Cash Book need not be balanced oftener than once each week.

¹⁰ The Journal contains only entries that cannot properly be made in the other books.

In The Hands Register contains the weekly earnings of, and payments to, all employees. A column is ruled at the extreme left of the left hand page for the names of the hands, and the remainder of the page is divided into as many double money columns, Dr. and Cr., as the size of the book will permit, similar to the Continued Trial Balance. The employees time is "made up" from the Foreman's time-book, and the amount due each is entered in the first vacant Cr. Column opposite his name. When they have been paid, the amount each has received is placed in the first Dr. column opposite his name, thus balancing the column. The footing of the 11. R. is entered to Labor account on the right hand side of the Cash Book.

In this set the entire investment is credited to Stock, as explained in the note at the bottom of page 44.

Note,—All goods are sold for Cash, Net Cash, or on "Regular" Terms. When sold for cash no entry is made excepting in the Cash Book, and that at the close of the day. If thought best, such sales may be described. See C. B., page 152. Such cash receipts should agree with the Salesman's memoranda. When sold for Net Cash, the goods are entered in the Sales Book with the word "Net" after each item, and the aggregate is posted to the debit of the purchaser's account in the Ledger. Mdsc. account should be credited with the daily, weekly or monthly footing of the Sales Book. When sold for "Net Cash" it is understood the bill is to be paid within 30 days. The terms are indicated by "Net" in the Sales Book. At the expiration of the time the bill has to run it will be subject to draft at sight. When goods are sold on "Regular terms," they are entered in the Sales Book and posted precisely as when sold for "Net Cash," excepting that the initial letter "R" is written after each item. Bills sold on "Regular" terms have four months to run, and if paid within 30 days are subject to a discount of 5 per cent. If allowed to run beyond the four months they are subject to draft at sight. The terms on which bills are sold should be indicated in the Ledger as well as in the Sales Book. See accounts given on page 153, for illustration.
